

UTSA photo of the day: Strutting Rowdy

Share this Story

(April 28, 2016) — The adorable walking toy was created by engineering graduate student Christian Treviño, who designed and 3-D printed the device herself. She hopes to eventually make it more widely available, but for now it's just strutting along, spreading Roadrunner pride.

Photo credit: Christian Treviño

By Joanna Carver

Public Affairs Specialist

The Honeynet Project Workshop

This three-day event will focus on the tools, tactics and motives involved in computer and network attacks. Attendees from around the world will take part in world-class hands-on trainings and technical discussions.

H-E-B University Center Ballroom, Main Campus Thursday, May 12, 4 p.m. Master of Public Administration Open House

Visit with faculty, alumni and students to discuss the benefits of and requirements for a Master Degree in Public Administration and/or the Graduate Certificate in Nonprofit Administration & Leadership.

Meeting Assembly Room (BVB 1.338), Downtown Campus Saturday, May 14, 10 a.m. UTSA Spring